

DINNER, ONE OF TEN IMPORTANT DATES ON FIREMEN'S CALENDAR

Drill School Scheduled for Next Week at Elgin

Ten important dates, among which is listed the annual firemen's and business men's dinner in October, are scheduled on the September-October calendar of the Antioch Firemen's Association as announced by John L. Horan, secretary.

Beginning with the drill school to be held at Elgin next week and continuing through Oct. 24, when the installation of new officers will be held, firemen will carry out the most active program of any time during the past year.

Chief among the activities scheduled is the annual community firemen's dinner which has been attended in past years by state and county fire notables as well as the outstanding men of this community. The dinner will be held between Oct. 8-14, the week set for the observance of Fire Prevention week this year. Annual inspection of buildings is made during that week.

A dinner will be held by the department in September also, but only for members of the department. No definite date has been set for this affair which is also held annually. September's activities for the department include: Drill school at Elgin, Sept. 21-22; county meeting at Harington, Sept. 25; and the regular meeting here Sept. 26.

Election of officers will be held during fire prevention week on Oct. 10, according to the announcement, in addition to other activities of that week. State firemen will convene the following week, Oct. 17, 18, and 19, at Rockford when all firemen are urged to attend at least some of the meetings.

Lake Bluff will entertain the county meeting of firemen that month on Oct. 23. Installation of officers will be held the following day by the local department. It is planned.

Mr. Karpen has formerly been located in this section, at one time owning the Brass Ball Tavern at the famous Brass Ball Corner. The new building will be located less than a mile from the village corporate limits.

The construction of this building is the only project of its kind in this immediate vicinity to be reported recently. It is not known whether local labor will be employed for the work.

Race Betting Will Be Tolerated in County, State's Attorney Says

Horse race bookmaking will be tolerated, according to State's Attorney Charles E. Mason, "as long as public opinion is so strongly in favor of it." Mason stated that it is almost impossible to get a conviction against bookmakers before a jury.

Bookmaking stands are scattered all through the county, several hundred being estimated to operate along the north shore. Mason said that he had forced bookmakers to stop their other gambling games.

MILK PRICE INCREASE OF CENT ON QUART IS AGREED IN CHICAGO

Milk Producers Strike for Raise and Throwing out Base

A retail increase in milk prices of one cent a quart was agreed to by the Pure Milk Association and Chicago dealers at an all day meeting held Wednesday in Chicago. The increase will become effective when it has been approved by the department of agriculture, when it is promised, the entire cent will be passed on to the farmer.

The agreement came while producers in McHenry, Kane and a few Lake County producers were withholding milk from the market following the meeting of farmers at Woodstock Tuesday night when 442 dairy-men out of 488 voted to strike. A price of $2.50 per hundred and no base limitations are asked by the strikers.

Although Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry County and Sheriff Lester Tiffany of Lake County were promising protection to shippers in the Harvard, Bassett, Big Foot and Lake Zurich areas, no trouble was experienced in this immediate locality where reports from both Scott's Dairy and the Antioch Dairy indicate that milk is being delivered by producers the same as before the strike.

As late as this morning, it was feared that violence would be used in the strike area which centers around Woodstock. Little milk was shipped in that section, Wednesday.

State's Letter
E. L. Bost, chosen chairman of the committee which met with no success Monday in Chicago with dealers, sent the following letter to the press early in the week:

"The dairy farmers are not satisfied with conditions and they feel that they have waited developments dependent upon promises long enough. They feel that they have been fair with everybody concerned. That they have suffered and endured to their limit."

"They are now ready to resort to more extreme measures."

"They must have an equal opportunity to secure a price for their milk to protect their farms and their families."

"They have lost confidence in any further promises and programs offered by the Pure Milk organization of officials. The dairy farmers oppose and will not accept the base-surplus plan of marketing. They demand that all dairy farmers in the 'shed' be granted a market and that a flat price be paid for all milk and cream milk commensurate with costs of production."

"The farmer feels that the difference between $1.47, the amount he receives for 46 quarts of milk and $4.80, the amount the consumer pays for their 46 quarts is too great a difference."

"Taking one step further into the cream channel we find a greater difference. That finding shows that for each 100 pounds of milk into 18 per cent cream that $5.28 is paid by the consumer to say nothing of the by-products such as cottage cheese and buttermilk. To the farmer this is unfair practice."

The Committee,
E. L. Bost, Chairman,
Harold Kelsey and James McGraw were representatives of Lake County on the committee.

At Woodstock, only 150 pounds of the usual 70,000 pounds of milk were delivered at the Borden factory, Wednesday, the first day of the strike.

Violations of the milk code and the Chicago milk agreement are said to have resulted in Secretary Don Geyer of the Pure Milk Association asking fifty dealers to show why their licenses should not be forfeited. Distributors made it plain that the new agreement will not be carried out unless the agricultural administration in Washington strictly enforces the code.

Does Not Meet Demands

While the new agreement contemplated raising the return to the farmer on milk sold in bottles to about $2.05 a hundred, it is estimated that because of the fluid milk delivered to restaurants and hotels the rise will actually amount to only 30 cents a hundred. The agreement is expected to somewhat better the farmers' condition, but it does not meet the demands of the strikers who asked $2.50 for 100 without any base limitations.

H. F. Pfister, president of Pure Milk declared that the strikers have violated their agreements and are no longer factors in the Chicago market. "They cannot come in here again unless the association permits them to," he stated.

Duck Season Opens Oct. 16

Bag Limit Is Reduced to Twelve This Year;
15 Last Year

Hunting season on waterfowl will open on Oct. 16, the same date as last year's opening. It was revealed in the regulations made public this week by the department of agriculture. A reduction of the bag limit to 12 ducks a day with a limit of 24 in any hunter's possession at one time, is made by the department this year.

Further charges are made this year in the number of canvasbacks, redheads, scaups, teal, shovellers, and gadwalls in the "12 bag limit," only 8 of these being allowed. Not more than 16 may be legitimately possessed by any hunter at one time. These additional restrictions are caused by the scarcity of these birds this year. Open season will continue for two months until Dec. 15, the regulations rule.

Wis. Opens Sept. 21
Wisconsin is included among the states, which under Federal regulation will be open to hunters Sept. 21, until Nov. 20. North Dakota is also in this class, while Missouri and Kansas have the same date as Illinois. Indiana and Kentucky start the season on Nov. 1. Closed season in these states becomes effective again Dec. 31.

With the announcement of the opening date, State Deputy Game Warden Henry Kerns of Waukegan warns hunters to read the game regulations carefully before starting out for game. He also points out that legalized shooting requires a knowledge of the various types of birds since the season on some birds varies.

Refrain from shooting all migratory birds until further word has been received, Warden Kerns advises. Dates for the open season on mudhens, quail and similar birds has not been announced.

Ducks Already Settling
Nimrods here have already observed ducks settling on the waters in this locality and plans and preparations are being made for the coming season. While a number from this section will go over into Wisconsin for some of their shooting, most of the hunters will wait for the open season here. Non-resident licensees in that state for shooting waterfowl are $15.

A complete report of the amended regulations has not been made. Antioch and the surrounding vicinity, because of the many bodies of water, has been the hunting ground for many enthusiasts of the sport. The hunting season is generally considered an off-season period of profit at lake resorts.

White Leghorn Pullets Lay at Four Months

Fred Scott, Antioch farmer, says that his young flock of white Leghorns purchased as day old chicks on May 8th, began laying on Sept. 8th. He has been getting some eggs every day since.

The chicks are from egg-laying contest winning stock and were purchased from C. L. Kull.

Mr. Scott is trying to hold the pullets from producing so as to give them ample time to mature and develop.

STATE WILL SPEND $5,000 ON LOCAL LAKE IMPROVEMENT

Inspection Trip Today Results in Decision to Dredge Channels

State Director of Conservation O. F. Thompson, who completed an inspection tour of the local lakes and channels late today, has authorized an expenditure of $5,000 to be used for improvement purposes here this fall. The expenditure, it is understood, will be made from the Department of Conservation funds appropriated for improvements.

Accompanying Director Thompson were Representative Richard J. Lyons, chairman of the Illinois Waterway commission, Rep. Senator George Maypole, C. K. Anderson, Otto Lehmann and Ray Pregoner.

Connection channels between Little and Fox Lakes, Grass to Marie, and Marie Lake to Channel Lake will be deepened and straightened, according to the plan as announced.

This local expenditure will in no wise affect the larger improvement program now being planned for the entire chain of lakes and the Fox river for which state and federal aid is sought.

AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY WILL HOLD JOINT INSTALLATION

Elaborate Plans Contemplated for Large Public

Elaborate plans for a joint installation of officers are being made by the American Legion Post and the Auxiliary, according to Dr. L. John Zimmerman, post commander of the Legion who states that Friday, Sept. 22, will be the date of the ceremony.

An installation, open to the public, and on a larger scale than any previously held by the two groups, is contemplated he states, although neither organization has completed arrangements. The installation will probably be held at the High School if conducted on a large scale.

Mrs. William Anderson, incoming president of the Auxiliary, stated yesterday that no announcements as to who will be installing officer can be made at this time, and all appointive officers for next year have not yet been filled. Mrs. Anderson will succeed Mrs. Evan Kaye.

Walter Hills, junior vice commander of the local Legion Post will succeed Dr. L. John Zimmerman as commander. Other Legion officials who will be installed are: George Garland, finance officer; George Hirschmiller, senior vice commander; Dr. E. J. Luttman, junior vice commander; Grant Collins, sergeant-at-arms, and the Rev. Rex Stims, chaplain. Appointments have not been made public.

In addition to Mrs. Anderson, the following will be installed by the Auxiliary: Mrs. Sine Laursen, first vice-president; Mrs. Paul Ferria, second vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Webb, chaplain; Mrs. Henry Reinko, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Roof, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Adolph Pesat, historian.

GAS INVESTIGATION

Investigation of the gas rate by the three commerce commissioners will meet with hearty approval in this community, as well as others, for the complaint that gas bills are more today than they were before the supposed reduction in October, 1931, is frequently heard.

A supposed reduction of five per cent has failed to appreciably reduce the income of the gas company, according to investigators who declare that the company's financial statement for 1932 showed a reduction in income of only one-half of one per cent. This despite the efforts of most consumers to cut down on their consumption of gas.

Among the charges made against the company, emphasis has been placed on the failure to regulate stoves so they would economically and efficiently consume the new gas. Stoves which burned the old manufactured gas, have not been adjusted to best utilize the new gas.

If the investigation and allegations being made result in a true saving in gas consumption, or the gas rate, it will be welcome news to those who have futilely struggled in past months to keep down the gas bill. The commodity, in our present order of living, a necessity, has failed to drop in cost during the past three years, along with other necessities. When we are reckoning living costs in cents, a monthly waste becomes a calamity.

GET READY FOR FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

On October 9, Fire Prevention Week will make its 1933 start. Once more a great, organized effort will be made to impress upon the nation the waste, the non-necessity and the tragedy of fire.

During past years a steadily increasing number of cities and towns have joined in the Week. The opening gun is fired by the President of the United States, who issues a proclamation calling upon every citizen to help make America safer against the ravages of fire. Many Governors follow with proclamations of their own, as do city officials. Insurance organizations, civic clubs, chambers of commerce, newspapers, trade associations and fire departments enlist together to make the Week a success.

Past Fire Prevention Weeks have done much good, and saved thousands of lives and millions of dollars worth of property. But the public has only half-learned the lessons offered—fire loss drops sharply during the Week and for a few weeks following, and then rises again to previous levels. Too many, when the first flush of enthusiasm has passed, drop back into old habits that allow fire hazards to grow and multiply.

Fire prevention Week should mean even more than usual this year. The United States has started on the road to business recovery—and that recovery would unquestionably be expedited if the hundreds of millions we waste annually through fire, could be saved. Every citizen should regard it as his duty and privilege to take an interest in Fire Prevention Week and to practice its teachings throughout the entire year.

SPENDING IS SAVING NOW

True economy is that which obtains the largest possible return for a dollar spent. True economy is to spend that dollar at a time when it will bring the most.

We have had a number of years of extreme depression. Prices have dropped to unimaginably low levels. Buying power has been close to non-existent. There was money in the country—but persons who had surpluses were afraid to spend. They went without needed articles in order to keep their savings intact. They permitted property to fall into costly disrepair.

If they pursue that timid policy any longer, they are going to be literally out of luck. That hoarded money is going down in value now. The worth of the dollar depends entirely on what it will buy. Six months from now it will buy much less than it will buy today. In other words, if you keep money in a non-productive state at present it amounts to throwing a certain percentage of it away.

You can get maximum value from your money only by putting it into use. There was never a better time to install a new heating plant, to repair or replace a roof, to build or rebuild, to paint or to do a thousand similar things. Every dollar so spent will appreciate in value—what it buys will, in a very short time, have a market value much in excess of what you paid.

Think it over! True saving now is through wise spending.

Horner Wants These Senators Retired

Editor E. B. Tabor says in the Earlville Leader:

"Word comes from Springfield that Gov. Horner has advised his down-state Democrats that there are two senators whom he wants to put on the retired list next term. They are Sen. Gunning of Princeton and Sen. Mason of Oglesby. When this word was broadcast to the faithful, Gunning at once announced his candidacy for re-election and set up his election machinery. Sen. Mason has not yet indicated his wishes, but it is understood among his close friends that he feels that he can continue to serve his people well if returned. And his friends are of the same opinion."

The Democratic machine has also ordered defeat of Sen. Ritchey V. Graham of Chicago and the election of Rep. John R. McSwenny to the senate in the 19th district. Graham is a son-in-law of the late A. J. Cermak and president pro tem of the senate.

Reliable reports from Chicago are to the effect that Sens. Harold G. Ward and Francis J. Loughran, the former slated by the Democrats to succeed Graham as Senate leader, are almost certain to be defeated next year. Loughran's constituents are bitter against him for introducing the sales tax. His chief political asset is his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, Democratic national committeewoman.

An Editor Writes ...from Experience!

I'LL BE GLAD when we get far enough ahead of the depression that people can all have their telephones again. Last Thursday I had to play fireman in the country south of Millford. A woman with two little children clinging to her skirts rushed out of a front gate and flagged me down. The roof of her home was ablaze in several spots. I carried out a lot of furniture by myself until other help happened along. It was a hot afternoon, too. The house, smoke house, chicken house, windmill and straw stack burned to the ground. A telephone would have saved them. A call to Millford or even Wellington would have brought a fire truck which would have saved most of the loss. But they had no telephone. The nearest house was nearly a mile away and I didn't know whether it had a telephone or not. There wasn't much time to drive around hunting one, so I carried out the price of the buildings burned would have paid telephone costs for several years.

An Editorial By EDWARD BECHLY, Editor, Iroquois County Democrat, Waukegan, Illinois

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC more heat with less fuel equals savings

You'll use less Waukegan Koppers Coke to heat your home. You'll get more heat from the amount you do burn. Waukegan Koppers Coke gives you increased quantities of heat and reduces the number of tons you require because it is made to burn efficiently. Even burning. Leaves few ashes. Eliminates almost all waste. Makes no grime. Ask your fuel dealer for particulars... then order a supply.

"Proud and glad to do our part"

WITH President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA Automobile Code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operations in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor Company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program over three years ago!

At that time, we put into operation a "share-the-work" plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 percent of this average. We are justly proud of that record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments.

On August 1st of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of a 7½-hour, 5-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last 4 months, Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

We feel that the President's recovery program deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the President and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet.

There are foods that are good, satisfy nutritional needs and still have so few calories that they will help you lose weight. These are the foods that form the basis of this reducing diet—fresh milk, fruits and vegetables. Hollywood stars have learned to control their weight safely by following this advice.

COSTS LESS NOW TO GROW CHICKS

The saving that is possible in feeding chicks during the first six weeks of their life is most clearly shown by recent tabulations. Where formerly ingredients were mixed together to form a certain per cent of protein, modern research proves that such mixing may prove costly to the owner.

files of Purina Mills Experiment Farm yield the interesting chart here reproduced. Three groups of chicks tested on three separate mashings, all having the same values according to old methods of analysis, but differing in the manner in which the ingredients were proportioned, show a wide range of costs. Group X, with the best scientific proportioning, is within a few cents of being worth double the old style ration represented by Group Z. Group Y was mixed according to some of the better practices of feeders. Group X was mixed according to the exclusive data developed by the Research Division of Purina Mills, the result of years of analytical, biological and practical farm difference between paying a of forty cents for ten pounds growth and paying seventy. Is obviously so great that raiser can afford not to examine. He should examine the methods and his cost consumed as against developed by the chicks of time will soon tell profits have gone.

Jedele has been invited to preach at the services. During Rev. Jedele's absence from Sunday services at Wilmet, Walter Diehl, a student at the Lutheran Theological seminary at Thienerville, will have charge at the English services at 9:30 and German at 10:45 on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lapine were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, Sept. 7, on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary by a number of relatives and friends. Cards, dancing and singing formed the evening's entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Lapine were presented with a gift of silver.

Coach Wm. Lieske is busy preparing candidates for this year's football team for games this fall. Four games have been scheduled so far—Mukwonago, East Troy, Waterford, Rochester and possibly a game with the alumni. Coach Lieske will have but two letter men on the squad and the prospects for a winning team are not good as he has the lightest material this year in the school's experience.

The members of the Holy Name congregation are to meet after the eight o'clock mass on Sunday to arrange for a new basement entrance and grading of a walk leading to it. Formal reception of new members to the Holy Name Society will be held on Sunday, Oct. 8, after the first mass. All boys who have made their First Holy Communion and men of the parish are invited to attend and join.

Fred Gauger of the Gauger Garage was badly cut Saturday evening while sharpening knives on an emery wheel that broke as he was using it. The wheel was making 1,750 revolutions per minute at the time. Flying pieces cut gashes above and below one eye. Dr. Beebe of Antioch was called and dressed the wounds.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wolf, of Chicago, Evelyn Carey of McHenry were dinner guests Sunday of Ermine and Grace Carey. Dick Carey returned to McHenry with them after a week-end at Wilmet.

There will be a meeting of the voters of the Union Free High School district at the gymnasium Friday night at eight o'clock. This will be a special meeting called to vote on the transportation question for children in the district.

Department Store Sells Stockings Cut to Fit All Types and Sizes of Legs

Until Belle-Sharmer stockings made their bow to American women last year, buying a stocking to fit was really almost a myth. True, most women know what foot size they wear—but the width and shape of the stocking was never certain—and the length of the hosiery varied considerably. One pair of stockings might be too large in the ankle; too small in the leg; too short in length to reach the garters without being pulled out of shape; or too long, in some instances, which means doubling over at the top.

Then stockings that are correctly proportioned were devised—stockings made in four different leg-widths and leg-lengths to fit every type of woman whether she is small, tall, medium, slim or plump.

Find your type, then ask for these belle-sharmer stockings by the name of your particular proportion. There's "brev" for short women and small girls; "modito" is made for the intermediate medium types; "duchessa" in extra long and fashioned in such a way it will not bind at the ankle or knee; and "classic" is the extra-full-in-the-leg number for women who are more amply built.

These hose are sold at the Williams Bros. Department store in Antioch.

Horner's Horn—Is Blows at Expense of Taxpayer

The Horner administration is spending nearly $35,000 a year of taxpayers' money in maintaining a publicity bureau to eulogize the Democrats at the capitol, in addition to a corps of press agents in Chicago. The Democrats have one of the largest and most efficient propaganda organizations ever devised by a political party and operated at public expense.

And Even That Is a Slim Hope

Republicans all over the state are coming out of the political depression following last fall's elections, and showing a willingness to get together. The Democrats have been making more than their usual number of mistakes. They admit their only chance in state and county elections is to keep the Republicans split, which they will try to do in devious ways.

Jellied Ham

Remove most of the fat from 2 cupsful of boiled ham. Pour 1 cupful of hot water over 1 package of lemon-flavored gelatin and add to it 1/2 cupful cold water, 1/2 cupful vinegar or the liquid from sweet pickled peaches or other spiced fruit. Cool the gelatin mixture slightly and pour it over the shaved ham. Chill it thoroughly, then unroll it on a bed of water, crisscross with sliced sherkins and mayonnaise.

DELICATE CAKE

Half cup shortening
Two-thirds cup milk
3 teaspoons baking powder
3 eggs
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond flavor
Pinch of salt
Cream shortening and add sugar gradually.

Sift flour—measure—sift with the baking powder and salt and add alternately to creamed mixture with the milk.

Add flavoring and drop eggs in one at a time, beating well after each egg. Pour into greased pan and bake in moderate oven for about 40 minutes.

were held from the Holy Name Church by Rev. J. Finan Tuesday, Sept. 5. Father Finan accompanied the remains to Calvary cemetery for burial.

Plea for Sneezers in New Fight on Hay Fever

CHICAGO—(Special)—In a plea to middle western cities to put unemployed men to work cutting ragweed and goldenrod before the pollenizing seasons of these and other hay fever producing plants begin, the Hay Fever Prevention Bureau, in a current bulletin just made public here, reveals that hay fever, asthma and a number of kindred disturbances are all of allergic origin and may be traced to a definite histamine-like poisoning.

"Histamine," the bulletin points out, "is an amino acid composed of toxic protein-end substances. It is produced by any one of more than 350 different substances which include both food and poisons and even inorganic matter. The exciting causes, ranging all the way from eggs to dog and cat hairs and many other things, such as feathers, flowers, yeast and strawberries. These are all harmless to the normal person, but cause violent reactions in approximately 4 per cent of the country's population."

"The poison is found in practically all the smooth muscle tissues of the body. It may be lessened by restrictive diet, or by immunizing the patient with small injections of the particular pollen to which he is susceptible. These methods, however, are necessarily slow and often quite expensive, since they involve segregation of the hypersensitive agent. Success is also reported by treating the patient with histamine, a recently perfected antidote which is taken by mouth to neutralize the toxin."

"If left unchecked, histamine acts as a powerful constrictor, which is one of the reasons why practically 6 per cent of those who have hay fever ultimately develop asthma, characterized by shortness of breath. In its true

Pollen from weeds, and even beautiful flowers such as these, science finds, may be poisonous to approximately 4 per cent of the nation's population.

Aspects, hay fever may be regarded as a protective mechanism leading to deeper trouble such as asthma, eczema, migraine, etc., when it loses its power."

Studies in the mysteries of allergy, the bulletin concludes, have emphasized scientifically, that what is food to one man may easily be poison to another, and that no greater civic benefit could be undertaken to help lessen the suffering of allergic victims than by cutting down infested weed areas, which are one of the chief sources of pollen infection.

Attention Turns Towards Making Chic Fall Accessories of Tweeds and Velvets at Home

Fabric gloves and slip cover purses will continue their popularity into the winter, present fashion trends indicate, and while ready made gloves and purses are being offered for sale in every known fabric, attention is turning towards making these accessories at home.

Cloth manufacturers, according to report, are placing glove patterns on the market and a number of pattern companies have also offered aid for the needlewoman who would look as smart as she is. Hats, in simple beret and turban styles, are another indication which completes the ensemble giving it added chic. Patterns for hats are also available.

For suits and tailored costumes, tweeds and novelty wools in contrasting colors are the suggestion offered for the accessory ensemble.

For the afternoon dress, satin and velvet will give a touch of superb elegance.

Cuffs, despite earlier predictions, are being shown on the fall gloves, and often, these cuffs are of tweed contrasting with a plain material of which the hand of the glove is made.

Such accessories as these may make your costume distinctive when it would otherwise pass as nondescript. The woman who has an instinct for dress is the woman who knows better than to neglect these details. She makes use of contrast and harmonies. She will give the costume which lacks unity, unity, through her flawless selection of accessories, and the costume which is monotonously uninspiring, under her fingers, will become something to which other women's eyes will turn.

Season for Comforts and Blankets Returns

Weather such as we had the early part of this week brings up the question of blankets and comforts, a question of quantity and quality, which will require some research following the summer months when much of the bedding has been packed away in a cedar chest or in an old trunk and rolled in moth balls.

Carefully examined, the blankets which have done duty for many past winters, may reveal slightly frayed edges. A moth may even be discovered nestling in the downy folds of a favorite. If there is any slight suspicion of moths in those which have been packed away, the complete lot of them should be hung on the line on a sunny morning and left out all day. A second day's airing will do no harm. If the blankets were not washed before being stored away the laundering should precede repairs.

Then begins the process of getting the blankets back in condition. Frayed bindings may be replaced with new bindings, or on the bias of coarse fabric, cut on the bias of a good quality of saffron. Small holes and thin spots may be darned by hand in a fine matching wool. In the case of a blanket which is badly worn and has a large "thin" space, darning on the sewing machine will strengthen it and prove a proverbial stitch in time. When blankets have become worn past mending through the center, divide them through the center and sew the two sides together, then binding the outer edge which was once the center. This will make a convenient extra blanket which may be used for emergencies.

The blanket which is past being mended and made to serve its avowed purpose, will make an excellent covering for the ironing board.

Comforts often stand in the need of attention, also. Recovering may be the only solution in some cases when the present covering is worn and faded but contains a good wool batting. Attractive and inexpensive coverings may be obtained for this purpose. Re-tying may be necessary, also. It is best to rate a comfort before the filling has become matted and lumpy.

After mending and renovating the blankets, fold them away in some convenient place, ready to be brought out on the first cold nights. An afternoon spent at this task may save buying coverings to replace those which are slightly worn.

Monk's Cloth Is Ideal Material for Pillows, Coverings and Drapes

Monk's cloth is an ideal material for making daybed and chair coverings, and even for drapes. It fits well into the informal home, has a homespun look which belies its price, and is a substantial weight which does not wrinkle easily nor develop a flimsy appearance.

The material in the better grade has a loose, heavy weave with a supple texture which will drape gracefully, and a stability which makes it appropriate for a covering.

This cloth, besides its peculiarity of weave and texture, has a peculiarity of color, coming only in a characteristic shade between oyster and taupe. In a room which is bright, filled with brilliant colors, monk's cloth will effectively tone down the colors. A bright border may be added to the covering or drapes.

For a college room, the boy's or girl's bedroom when the room is to be used for a study and to a certain extent, a sitting room, a monk's cloth spread will serve excellently. Pillows of the material are another idea for the study bedroom or for the sun-porch.

Cream Rouge Blends Best When Warm; Should Be Dotted on Sparingly

Cream rouge to be used with that expert touch which leaves the cheeks blooming with delicate color, should be kept warm, or warmed when it is to be used, so it will be slightly oily and will have a creamy consistency. Slightly moistening the cheeks or thinly coating them with cold cream, will leave a base on which the rouge can best be blended in.

Apply cream rouge sparingly and painstakingly, dotting a small amount on either side of the nose, almost even with the lobes of the nose. If your face has high cheek bones or is oval, long or pointed in contour, the dots should be placed slightly higher on the very broad or round face. When the rouge has been warmed by the heat of the cheeks, spread it carefully upward and outward, towards the ears and the temples.

Cream rouge should never be applied over powder, nor over a heavy powder base. Many women, especially those with dry skins, find it gives the cheeks a more natural tint than dry rouge and it does not leave a dry artificial coloring. When the rouge is not oily enough, a small amount of cold cream may be brushed across the top.

Canning Hints

When canning fruit, use one-third to one-half as much sugar as fruit.

When preserving fruit, use three-fourths as much sugar as fruit. Jam requires equal amounts of sugar and fruit.

Equal amounts of juice and sugar is the right proportion of jelly.

Fruit for jam may be imperfect and overripe; for jelly, it should be underripe.

Sweets Consumption a Measure Of Civilization, Says Economist

WHAT is the mark of a high stage of civilization? Plenty of sweet foods is, somewhat surprisingly, the answer suggested by Dr. John Lee Coulter, noted economist, member of the United States Tariff Commission, and now in charge of the efforts being made by the various sugar industries to draw up a stabilization code designed to cure the ills of these industries and increase employment.

Dr. Coulter's answer, of course, calls for elaboration. He does not mean that an individual or a people merely by eating more sugar will necessarily become more civilized. If that were the case, it would probably be the more backward peoples up to the standards of the more advanced. It would only be necessary to ship a lot of sugar to the Papuan headhunters, and in a few years they would provide a thriving market for motor cars, radios, and plus fours.

What Dr. Coulter does mean is that the ability to purchase sweet foods in all their many forms is a symbol of that degree of comfort, happiness and security which means a high stage of civilization to the vast majority of people in this country—a country which has always prided itself so much upon its high standards. It is the ability of the great mass of the American people to possess and enjoy the little luxuries of existence which has always distinguished us from the rest of the world, Dr. Coulter declares, "and that is what our present recovery program is trying to restore."

"For a comparative few of us," he says, "happiness depends on a trip to Europe upon a luxurious liner, Parisian hats and perfumes, or membership in an exclusive country club. For the tens of millions who make up the backbone of our citizenry, however, happiness depends upon far simpler pleasures, and I know of no better symbol of them all than the ability to finish off the meal with ice cream and cake with frosting on it, to stop in at the drug store for a sundae on a hot afternoon, or to bring home a box of candy to the family at the end of the week. These are the luxuries that practically all of our people used to be able to afford, and that if our plans succeed, they will be able to afford again."

Spiced Crab Apples

3 quarts crab apples
1 quart vinegar
5 cups sugar
2 sticks cinnamon
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon allspice.
Wash crabapples. Make a syrup of remaining ingredients by boiling them together over a surface burner, having spices tied in cloth bag. Add apples and heat gently but do not let them boil. Let stand in syrup over night. Next morning remove apples and pack in jars. Reheat syrup to boiling point, pour over apples in jars, about ¾ inch from top. Process in 275 degree oven 25 minutes.

Horris & Swing

Dr. John Lee Coulter, noted economist and tariff expert, now presiding over efforts of the sugar industries to draw up their code.

"America was largely settled by people who, leaving poverty behind them in Europe, sought to better their lot in the new world. At first times were necessarily hard. Food was none too plentiful. As conditions improved a greater abundance and variety of food on the family table was one of the first marks of improvement. From the earliest settlements, until the present day, our people have always celebrated their joyful anniversaries by piling the groaning board with sweet and other special delicacies. When we see the ability to do this restored to all our people we will know that our 'New Deal' has succeeded."

The sugar stabilization program in which Dr. Coulter is now engaged is an endeavor to bring producers and processors of sugar into an agreement along lines that will lead to greater employment in the cane sugar refineries along the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Coast, in the cane fields of Louisiana and Florida, and in the beet sugar fields and processing plants in the Middle and Far West. It is an ambitious and far-reaching program, and one that will have a far-reaching effect upon the welfare and purchasing power of tens of thousands of workers.

2nd. Rain or water will not wash it off.

3rd. It is easier on all equipment used in handling or burning of same. There is no corrosion in oil.

4th. Oil contains heat units which are not present in other dustless treatments.

5th. It does not cost the customer one penny extra for this service.

We invite you to try some of our OIL TREATED FUEL. We believe you will be pleasantly surprised to note how clean it is to handle and to burn.

LEGISLATORS FACE GIGANTIC TASKS IN SPECIAL SESSION

Many Subjects Will Be Included in Governor's First Call

Springfield, Sept. 14.—A special session of the legislature will be held within the next thirty days, made necessary by failure of the governor and the Democratic leadership to carry through a complete, constructive program at the regular session.

Every subject to be taken up at the special session was at least discussed among legislators at the regular session. From the Democratic inner-circle it is learned that the following subjects probably will be included in the governor's first call, or subsequent calls:

Chicago Needs Nine Millions.
1. More unemployment relief for Cook county. Nine million dollars, in addition to sales tax collections, is needed. When the sales tax was passed all collections until Jan. 1 were supposed to take care of the relief problem. The supposition was that property would arrive by Jan. 1 and there would be no unemployment. It now develops that no accurate estimates of the amount needed, or the amount which would come in through the sales tax, were made. The legislature will be asked to increase the sales tax to four cents, or levy a general occupational tax, or issue $20,000,000 in bonds against the motor fuel tax receipts. Gov. Horner favors the bonds, but the Democratic machine has not decided what it wants.

One Per Cent Realty Tax.
2. A pretense of limiting real estate taxes to one per cent of the full value of property. This will be advocated by Chicago's Mayor Kelly who, with Gov. Horner, killed the Bederman resolution, passed by the house at the regular session, which would have done the same thing.

3. Pass a liquor control bill. The Democratic organization, which has tried to load the committee of 16 named to draw this bill, wants the old-time saloon back under the name of tavern, with political control of licenses, as now prevails in the handling of beer licenses in Chicago.

County Borrowing Plan.
4. A bill giving counties the right to borrow from the federal government and erect apartment houses, tax exempt and in competition with tax-paying property owners and under the dictatorship of a State Housing Board just appointed, which is controlled by persons close to the governor.

Incidentally the Cook county Democrats will demand that the set-up of the Illinois Unemployment Relief Commission be changed to make it strictly a political affair. It will also be pointed out that Cook county is now using only 80 per cent of the total relief funds of the state, as against a previous 90 per cent. The new figure is said to be arrived at by leaving out the administrative costs, about 10 per cent, nearly all of which is spent in Cook county.

Horner's Brother Acts.
Two hundred new autos are being delivered to the state highway department—69 Fords and 141 Chevrolets. Ford offered the 200 cars for $99,805.52 as against the General Motors bid of $108,252.65, a difference of $8,447.13. The state bought 33 coaches and 26 one-half ton trucks from Ford and 32 coaches, 73 1½ ton trucks and 36 1½ ton dump trucks from General Motors. The total price paid was $103,524.53, less trade-ins which brought it down to $97,329.53. Ford's price on the 200 cars, less trade-ins was $93,730.52. The Chevrolets were bought through the Summit Motor Company of Chicago, but delivered from the St. Louis Chevrolet plant. James Levy of Chicago, brother of Gov. Horner, was made general representative for General Motors in Illinois shortly after the governor took office.

The Ubiquitous Oyster

RRRRRR! No, we're not growling. We're just celebrating the approach of the first month with an "R" in it when the idea of oysters pops into every body's mind. Scientists assure us that you don't really need to wait for a month with an "R" in it, even for fresh oysters, but people along our sea coasts have got into that habit, and the oysters really don't care. In every part of our country, however, and at any season, canned oysters are good whenever they are opened, and you can make mighty good things with them, too.

Two Appelling Entrées
Oyster Entrée: Drain the oysters from a 5-ounce can, and arrange in four buttered, flat, shallow low earthen ramekins or scallop shells. Mix one cup bread crumbs with two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon minced parsley, one-half teaspoon salt, a few grains of pepper, one-fourth teaspoon thyme, and one-half teaspoon lemon juice, and add four tablespoons liquor from the can of oysters to moisten. Cover oysters with this, and place under the broiler flame till the crumbs are well browned. Serves four.

Oyster and Bacon Roast: Drain oysters from a 5-ounce can, and arrange in a shallow, buttered earthen scallop dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Lay thinly sliced bacon on top, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, and set in hot oven till bacon is crisp. Serves four.

Beans in Summer

BEANS are good nourishing food, and what with baseball, swimming, hiking, tennis, golf, and the keen appetites that come from them and mulling, we need to keep up our strength. Here's a little way to do it with beans—a little meat and cheese in a dish that

Tastes Like Outdoors
Boston Bean Croquettes with Cheese Sauce and Bacon: Mash the contents of a can of those delicious beans which are cooked in the same way as the Maine lobsterjacks cook them (bean-bele beans, they are called). Add one teaspoon chopped onions, salt, pepper and one or two-fourths cups crumbs. Form into croquettes, roll in fine crumbs, then in a slightly beaten egg, and again in crumbs. Let stand at least fifteen minutes, then fry in deep fat (350°) until brown. Serves four.

Cheese Sauce: Melt one tablespoon butter, add one tablespoon flour, and stir smooth. Add seven-eighths cup milk, slowly, stirring until smooth and thick. Add one-half cup grated cheese, salt, pepper, paprika, a few grains of mustard and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Serve over croquettes, garnishing each with a slice of bacon.

Fresh and Canned

HAS it ever occurred to you what excellent and also saving combinations can be effected by serving fresh and canned vegetables together in the same dish? This not only gives you the benefit of the fresh vegetables which abound in summer, but it enlarges your menu and also means a real economy. Try, for instance, these:

Corn and Cauliflower Fritters: Sift together one cup flour, one teaspoon salt and one teaspoon baking powder. Add one-half cup milk and two well-beaten egg yolks. Fold in the contents of a No. 1 can of whole kernel corn and one-half cup cauliflower (separated into small flowerlets and boiled until tender in salted water.) Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat (375°), and fry until brown. Makes about sixteen fritters.

Scalloped Corn, Celery and Olives: Boil one cup sliced celery five minutes, and drain. Put alternate layers of corn from a 10½-ounce can of whole kernel corn, celery and chopped ripe olives (you will need a fourth of a cup) in a baking dish, sprinkling with three-fourths teaspoon salt and a few grains of pepper. Dot top with two tablespoons butter, pour over two-thirds cup milk, and cover with one-half cup buttered crumbs. Bake for about forty-five minutes in a 375° oven, or until celery is tender. Serves six.
